Driving Automation Through Learning & Initiative

As part of our ongoing journey towards building smarter and more efficient ways of working, the automation of service delivery monitoring marks a significant step forward. This initiative has enabled near zero-touch tracking, enhanced visibility into operations, and a meaningful reduction in manual effort—bringing us closer to seamless and intelligent execution.

At the heart of this achievement is a story of initiative and learning. A special appreciation to Jeevitha, who went beyond understanding the requirement to actively building the solution by integrating n8n workflows with Antigravity.

What makes this contribution even more impactful is her commitment to sharing knowledge—through a dedicated training session that empowered the team to adopt and extend this capability.

Her proactive approach, strong sense of ownership, and willingness to enable others beautifully reflect the culture of continuous improvement we aspire to nurture.

Well done, Jeevitha—this is the kind of initiative that not only solves problems, but also inspires progress.

Driving Visibility, One Workflow at a Time: Kanban Comes to Syntheta

We are delighted to share a significant milestone in our journey of continuous innovation – the successful implementation of the Kanban component in Syntheta.

At its core, the Kanban component is more than just a visual board; it is a powerful workflow enabler. By allowing users to organize, manage, and track tasks seamlessly across different stages, it brings clarity to processes that are often complex and dynamic.

With this addition, teams can now experience enhanced visibility, improved coordination, and a more structured approach to workflow management.

What makes this achievement even more impactful is the strong foundation that has been built alongside it. The team has thoughtfully outlined and established the steps required to create a basic Kanban board in Angular, along with configuring its essential features. This not only ensures a smooth setup but also empowers teams with the ease of adoption and scalability moving forward.

This milestone stands as a testament to the collaborative spirit and commitment of our team in continuously strengthening Syntheta's capabilities.

A special appreciation goes to Vandana for taking complete ownership of this initiative and driving it to successful implementation with dedication and excellence.

As we continue to evolve, this is yet another step towards building smarter, more intuitive solutions that enable our teams to perform at their best.

Kudos Corner: Turning Insight into Impact

Kudos to Shailesh for his sharp vigilance and proactive approach in identifying a critical fraudulent activity impacting pricing and revenue.

Through keen analysis, he uncovered multiple instances where high-value products were being purchased at significantly reduced prices — including an item worth ₹1,18,994 being sold for just ₹11,601. This led to the identification of a total potential revenue leakage of ₹1,07,393 across 162 units.

Acting swiftly on his observations, the client initiated a detailed investigation and confirmed: “The modus operandi and the individual involved have been identified, and legal action is being initiated.”

Shailesh

This is a powerful example of how attentiveness, analytical rigor, and a strong sense of ownership can drive meaningful business impact. Shailesh’s contribution not only safeguarded revenue but also reinforced the importance of staying alert and accountable in everything we do.

Great work, Shailesh — your efforts truly make a difference.

• Prasana

I have a total of 12 years of professional experience at Trasccon Interconnections Systems Pvt. Ltd. in Office Operations, Logistics, EXIM, Compliance, Procurement, and Stores Management. My professional journey started with Trasccon on 28 April 2014 as a Stores In-Charge. Over the years, I have continuously learned, taken additional responsibilities, and grown into handling EXIM, Compliance, and Logistics operations independently.

During the initial stage of my career, I independently managed complete store operations, including inventory management, dispatch activities, export and domestic logistics coordination, and consumables procurement. For nearly two years, I handled all these responsibilities single-handedly before manpower support was added to the team. This experience helped me develop strong operational knowledge, multitasking ability, and responsibility in handling critical business functions flawlessly.

In addition to stores activities, I also handled accounts-related dispatch operations for around eight months. My responsibilities included manual invoice preparation, dispatch documentation, Tally updates, and coordination with the accounts team for weekly process updates. This exposure improved my knowledge in accounting coordination, invoice management, and documentation processes.

As the company expanded and new facilities were established, additional manpower and separate stores were introduced for customer-supplied materials and purchased materials. During this phase, I played an important role in organizing store activities, streamlining material handling processes, and maintaining smooth coordination between procurement, planning, dispatch, and stores operations.

My Beautiful
Years...

One of the major milestones in my career was handling the “Premier Evolvics” customer project, where I was responsible for procurement planning, material coordination, and dispatch activities. Alongside project execution, I effectively managed consumables procurement, logistics coordination, and stores operations. In recognition of my performance, dedication, and contributions, I was promoted as EXIM & Logistics Executive in 2022.

I would like to sincerely thank Singh Sir for the opportunity, guidance, and trust he placed in me throughout this journey. His support and encouragement played a significant role in my professional growth, helping me take on greater responsibilities and achieve this important milestone in my career.

After moving into the EXIM & Logistics role, I started individually handling complete import shipment operations. My responsibilities include arranging freight forwarders, coordinating vendor pickup from supplier locations, monitoring shipment movement, coordinating customs clearance, handling Bill of Entry (BOE) filing activities, and ensuring material delivery to our office. I gained strong practical knowledge in import operations, freight management, customs procedures, and critical shipment clearance handling.

One of my major achievements has been supporting Advance License processing and customs duty-saving activities. I successfully supported the processing of approximately 25 Advance Licenses, contributing to customs duty savings of around ₹4 Crores for the organization. During this process, I received valuable support from the accounts team, especially Anand Sir. The Advance License closure process was successfully completed with the support and coordination of Anand Sir, Nagaraj Sir, and Sham Sir.

Sham Sir, who is part of my department, played an important role in guiding and mentoring me in Advance License (AL) and EOU processes. He guided me on how to learn EXIM procedures practically, how to process AL and EOU documentation, and how to handle critical customs clearance situations confidently. Through this guidance, I developed deeper knowledge in EXIM compliance, customs coordination, and operational problem-solving.

In September 2024, the company commenced EOU (Export Oriented Unit) operations, and since then, I have been actively handling EXIM operations, logistics coordination, customs compliance, import/export documentation, and various EOU-related activities involving duty-free import and export processes. This role has significantly strengthened my expertise in compliance management, customs regulations, and international logistics operations.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Vishy Sir for providing me with the opportunity to handle EOU compliances and encouraging me to grow further in this domain. His trust and support have helped me gain extensive knowledge, enhance my professional capabilities, and build a stronger foundation for my career in EXIM and logistics management.

My professional journey from Stores In-Charge to managing EXIM, Compliance, and Logistics operations reflects a path of continuous learning, adaptability, dedication, and professional growth over the past 12 years. Throughout this journey, I have consistently enhanced my skills and knowledge by taking on new responsibilities, learning from experienced professionals, and contributing to organizational success through efficient operations, cost optimization initiatives, and strong compliance management.

I would also like to sincerely thank all my colleagues and team members for their continuous support, encouragement, and cooperation throughout my career. Your support has played an important role in my growth, and I look forward to achieving many more milestones together with your guidance and teamwork.

More Than a Workplace: Nine Years of Learning, Leadership & Belonging

-By Dayanand U

My journey with the organization began on 13th April 2017, the day I attended my interview, and just four days later, on 17th April 2017, I officially became a part of the WMS/Suryojasvi Group family. What started as an opportunity as a Data Analyst has today become a journey of growth, learning, responsibility, and countless memories where I now have the responsibility of managing an entire team and process.

From day one, I was fortunate to be surrounded by people who guided, supported, and believed in me. I would like to sincerely thank Naresh for giving me the opportunity to begin my career journey in WMS/Suryojasvi Group. That one opportunity changed my life both professionally and personally.

A special thanks to Navaneeth, my first trainer, mentor, colleague, and one of my dearest friends. He has been a constant source of support throughout these years, not only professionally but personally as well. The foundation he helped build during my early days still continues to guide me today.

I would also like to thank Avinash, my first manager, who played an important role in shaping my professional approach and helping me understand responsibilities beyond work.

A very special thanks goes to Sushruth, who has been one of the biggest contributors to my growth in the organization. He is not just a manager to me, but also a very good friend who has stood by me throughout my journey. Beyond work, he has continuously pushed me to improve, take ownership, and grow into greater responsibilities. We may argue and disagree many times, but the mutual respect, trust, and understanding between us has always remained strong. A major part of my professional growth and confidence today comes from the opportunities, guidance, support, and belief he placed in me over the years.

One of the proudest parts of my career has been managing the Lenovo team, which was also my very first team in WMS. Over the years, we successfully supported Lenovo in achieving 100% accurate Claims DSRs before the 15th of every month and contributed towards integrating several tools and process improvements, including major implementations like CSD. These achievements were never individual efforts – they were possible because of teamwork, commitment, and trust.

I would especially like to thank Vishy Sir for the constant guidance, trust, and encouragement he has given me throughout my journey in the organization. One of the qualities I truly admire about him is the way he always thinks about employee growth and believes in giving opportunities to people who are willing to learn and work hard. His leadership style inspires confidence, motivates people to perform better, and creates an environment where individuals feel valued and supported. Many of us have grown professionally because of the trust and responsibilities he has given us over the years. His guidance not only helped me improve professionally but also taught me how to think with ownership, responsibility, and a long-term vision towards work and career growth.

I am also grateful to Chetan Sir and Mahi Sir for the valuable guidance, advice, and experiences they shared with us over the years. Their insights helped us think better, act wiser, and approach challenges with a broader perspective. A special mention to Chetan Sir for his strong belief that people should grow along with the organization. His continuous efforts in working with the OD team to bring the best learning materials, development opportunities, and guidance for employees truly reflects his commitment towards nurturing growth and continuous learning within the organization.

Most importantly, I want to thank my Lenovo team in Suryojasvi Group for their continuous support throughout this journey. Every achievement, every challenge overcome, and every milestone reached has been a collective effort.

I would also like to thank the entire Suryojasvi Group for their continuous support throughout my journey. Every team, colleague, leader, and individual I worked with over these years contributed in some way towards my learning, growth, and success. The culture of support, teamwork, and encouragement within the organization is one of the biggest reasons why this journey has been so meaningful and memorable for me.

There are countless memorable moments across these nine years – moments that are difficult to put into words because they are deeply connected with emotions, learning, struggles, growth, and friendships. Over these years, there were days when work lasted just a couple of hours, and there were also days when we worked for 16 hours straight to meet commitments and support the business. But through every phase, I genuinely enjoyed every second of this journey.

More than the work pressure or challenges, it is the connections, friendships, trust, and sense of belonging within this organization that made me stay and grow here for so many years. The people around me, the support system, and the memories created along the way made this place feel more than just a workplace – it became a second home for me.

Looking back today, I can proudly say that I am who I am because of this organization. It has shaped me professionally and personally in ways I will always be grateful for. For me, the organization always comes first, and that commitment will continue for as long as I am part of this family.

Nine years completed, and the journey still feels inspiring, meaningful, and full of purpose. 19

The celebration was filled with laughter, music, and plenty of smiles as colleagues gathered to make the day special for our September stars. The vibrant decorations, heartfelt wishes, and the delicious cake added to the festive spirit. What truly made the celebration memorable was the warmth and togetherness that filled the room — a reflection of the Suryojasvi culture that values every individual and every moment of joy.

Each birthday is a reminder that our people are the heart of everything we do. Here's to our April-born Suryojasvis — may your year ahead be filled with success, happiness, and endless sunshine!

1 Mission

To create wealth creators, not just traders

In a world where success is often measured by funding rounds, flashy valuations, and rapid expansion, the story of Nithin Kamath stands apart as a powerful reminder that simplicity, discipline, and long-term thinking can build something truly extraordinary.

Born into a middle-class family, Nithin's journey was not backed by privilege, elite networks, or massive investments. Like many young Indians, he explored different paths while trying to discover what truly excited him.

He worked in a call center during his early years, trading stocks during the day and learning from every success and failure along the way. What started as curiosity slowly became deep understanding.

Unlike many entrepreneurs who dreamt of creating the next glamorous startup, Nithin focused on solving a real problem.

At that time, stock trading in India was expensive, complicated, and intimidating for ordinary people. Brokerage charges were high, technology platforms were outdated, and investing felt accessible only to a select few. Nithin believed that financial markets should not belong only to experts or wealthy investors — they should be accessible to every Indian.

With this belief, he and his brother Nikhil Kamath started Zerodha in 2010.

The beginning was not easy.

There were no giant investors backing them. No aggressive marketing campaigns. No shortcuts. They built the company patiently, step by step, customer by customer. While the startup ecosystem was chasing funding and rapid scaling, Zerodha focused on trust, transparency, technology, and customer experience.

And that patience changed an entire industry.

Zerodha introduced low-cost trading and simplified investing for millions of Indians. The company became India's largest retail brokerage platform — not by shouting the loudest, but by delivering consistent value over many years.

What makes Nithin Kamath's story especially inspiring is not just business success, but the philosophy behind it.

He often speaks about sustainable growth over reckless expansion. He believes businesses must create real value, remain financially disciplined, and build trust that lasts decades. In an age of distractions, he emphasizes focus. In an age of noise, he values clarity. In an age of burnout, he openly speaks about health, balance, and mental well-being.

One of the most remarkable aspects of Zerodha's journey is that it was built without depending heavily on external funding. This required courage, patience, and the willingness to grow responsibly rather than artificially.

For organizations like the Suryo Jasvi Group, there are powerful lessons hidden in his journey:

1. Solve Real Problems

Great organizations are built when we focus on meaningful challenges that genuinely improve people's lives. Zerodha succeeded because it simplified investing for ordinary Indians.

2. Trust is the Greatest Capital

Technology can be copied. Products can evolve. But trust takes years to build and seconds to lose. Zerodha's growth came from customer trust and transparency.

3. Consistency Beats Noise

Success does not always come from dramatic moves. Often, it comes from showing up every single day with discipline and purpose.

4. Learning Never Stops

Nithin Kamath's journey reflects continuous learning, adaptation, and curiosity. Every Suryo Jasvi can grow by remaining a lifelong learner.

5. Build for the Long Term

Quick wins may create excitement, but long-term thinking creates legacy.

Today, through initiatives like Rainmatter, Nithin also supports startups working in climate, health, finance, and innovation — helping the next generation of entrepreneurs create meaningful impact.

His story reminds us that world-class organizations are not built overnight. They are built through courage during uncertainty, discipline during growth, humility during success, and commitment to a larger purpose.

At Suryo Jasvi Group, as we continue our own journey toward becoming World Class, the story of Nithin Kamath inspires us to think deeper, act wiser, learn continuously, and create solutions that truly matter.

Because true brilliance is not about becoming famous quickly.

It is about building something valuable that stands the test of time.

“Success is not about how fast you grow. It is about how strongly you stand.”

The fabric has a subtle sheen and visible folds, creating a textured backdrop. On the white paper, the text "Beliefs We Stand For & Melody of Our Culture" is written in a flowing, blue cursive script. The text is arranged in three lines: "Beliefs We Stand For" on the top line, "&" in the middle, and "Melody of Our Culture" on the bottom line.

Crystal Clear Identity, Daily Remembered

Every organisation has rituals, but at Suryo, we have something deeper— a daily moment that reconnects us to our identity, our purpose, and our shared destiny.

Every day at 11:00 AM, across all our companies, one powerful practice unites us:

- We play the Suryo Song.
- We recite the Suryo Mahavakyas.

These are not just words or melodies. They are the soul of who we are, the codes we live by, and the values that shape us.

In a world full of noise, speed, and constant change, this daily ritual becomes a pause—

- a moment to return to our center
- to remember what we stand for
- to realign with the brilliance we are committed to becoming.

The Suryo Song reminds us of our spirit of our joy, our unity, our courage, and our commitment to be increasingly useful, grateful, and joyful.

It binds us together as one family with one purpose.

The Suryo Mahavakyas remind us of our promises—to learn, to serve, to solve, to create, and to become the light that elevates industries and the world around us.

Through these daily practices, we reaffirm:

- We are Suryos.
- We are devoted to brilliance.
- We rise with purpose.
- We walk together.

A world-class organisation begins with world-class intention—reminded every day.

And we build, every day, a world-class organisation guided by intention, humility, and service.

This ritual is more than a habit.

it is our gratitude in action—gratitude for our journey, our people, our purpose, and for the chance to grow and evolve together.
