SSF Family Meet 2026: Celebrating Purpose, Partnership & Impact

Asteya was honoured to be invited to the SSF Family Meet 2026, hosted by the Shooting Stars Foundation (SSF) in Chennai. The gathering brought together scholars, alumni, partners and supporters of the SSF community to celebrate their shared journey and the meaningful impact created through education, collaboration and collective effort.

As part of the event, Asteya was presented with a memento in recognition of our association with SSF. The acknowledgement is a meaningful reminder of the value of partnerships built around a shared purpose and a commitment to creating positive social impact.

Our association with SSF reflects Asteya's continued focus on purpose-driven partnerships and initiatives that contribute to lasting change. We are grateful to be part of this journey and look forward to strengthening the association while creating many more meaningful milestones together.

Turning Automation into Impact

Joseph from Asteya has demonstrated how a simple idea, when backed by initiative and technology, can create significant impact. He successfully implemented payment file automation using Gemini and Python, transforming a time-intensive process into one that now takes just a few seconds, while maintaining accuracy.

This initiative is a great example of technology-driven problem-solving in action—identifying an opportunity, exploring a smarter approach, and turning it into a practical solution that improves everyday work. Kudos to Joseph for embracing automation, challenging the conventional way of working, and creating a solution that delivers speed, efficiency and real value to the team!

Turning Challenges into Client Success

Sometimes, meaningful client success begins with a process that needs to be brought back on track. That is exactly what Bhuvana and Joseph achieved for Pure Trust through their work on the Accounts Dashboard presentation.

When the team took over the account, the client's monthly dashboard submissions had been stalled for nearly a year. What followed was a journey of understanding, collaboration and persistence. Within just 3-4 months of onboarding, the team successfully reactivated the reporting process and restored a key client deliverable. The journey, however, was not without its challenges. Understanding the client's reporting expectations and translating them into the right structure required several rounds of discussions and alignment. Bhuvana and Joseph worked closely with the client to understand their needs, refine the reporting approach and ensure that the final output addressed their expectations.

Adding another dimension to the effort, the team effectively leveraged AI tools to create a high-quality and impactful presentation, demonstrating how technology can complement human understanding and problem-solving. The appreciation received from Pure Trust is a testament to the team's ownership and commitment. More than just completing a presentation, Bhuvana and Joseph helped revive a process, rebuild momentum and strengthen client confidence.

Their journey is a wonderful example of what happens when customer understanding, collaboration, persistence and technology come together—turning a challenge into an opportunity to create real value. Kudos to Bhuvana and Joseph for making it happen!

Hi Bhuvaneshwari Ji & Abhijit Ji,

Thank you for creating such an excellent report for Finance and Accounts, finally. It has improved significantly and is now much closer to what I had envisioned

I really appreciate Abhijit Ji and Bhuvana Ji for the valuable additions and improvements and this shows the good insights.

There are a few slides that I need to understand better, and I also have some inputs to make the report even more effective.

Let's work together to create the best possible framework that can be followed by other NGOs in the future.

Thanks again for your efforts and valuable contributions.

SIX YEARS STRONG: A JOURNEY OF LEARNING & GROWTH

Completing six years with our company is a very special milestone in my professional journey. When I look back at the day I started, I feel proud of how much I have learned and grown during these years. This journey has given me many valuable experiences, opportunities and memories that I will always cherish.

During these six years, I have had the opportunity to work with different teams, colleagues and responsibilities. Every experience has helped me improve my knowledge, skills and confidence. I have learned that every challenge is also an opportunity to learn something new and become better at what I do.

One of the most important things I have learned is the value of teamwork. Working together, supporting each other and sharing knowledge helps us achieve our common goals. The guidance and support received from my seniors, colleagues and team members have played an important role in my professional development.

My journey has also taught me the importance of discipline, responsibility, quality and commitment towards work. I have always tried to complete my responsibilities sincerely and contribute positively to the team. The challenges I faced along the way have helped me become more patient, responsible and confident.

I am thankful to the company for providing me with opportunities to learn, improve and take on new responsibilities. I am also grateful to all my seniors and colleagues who have supported and encouraged me throughout these six years. Their guidance and cooperation have made my journey more meaningful.

As I complete six years, I look forward to continuing my journey with the same enthusiasm and dedication. I hope to keep learning new things, improving my skills and contributing more towards the growth and success of the company. I believe there are many more opportunities ahead.

Finally, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to the management, seniors, colleagues and everyone who has been part of my journey. These six years have been a memorable chapter of my career, filled with learning, challenges, achievements and valuable relationships. I am proud to be a part of this organization and look forward to many more successful years ahead.

Six Years, Countless Lessons and a Journey to Cherish

– Charan

Six years ago, when I joined the company, I had no idea how much this journey would teach me—not just about my work, but also about myself. Today, as I look back, I feel a sense of happiness and pride in how far I have come and in all the experiences that have shaped me along the way.

For me, these six years have been about much more than completing tasks or taking on responsibilities. They have been about learning through experience, building relationships, figuring things out when the answers weren't always obvious, and gradually becoming more confident in what I do. Every phase of this journey has taught me something valuable, and many of those lessons came from the simplest moments of everyday work.

Of course, not every day has been easy. There have been challenges, unexpected situations and moments that pushed me to think differently. But looking back, I realise that these experiences have helped me become more patient, adaptable and willing to learn. They have also shown me how much easier it is to navigate difficult situations when you have good people around you.

One of the things I truly value about my journey is the people I have met along the way. My seniors, colleagues and teammates have all been part of my growth in different ways. Some have guided me, some have encouraged me to do better, and others have simply made the everyday journey more enjoyable. I am grateful for the support, trust and opportunities that have helped me grow over the years.

What makes this milestone special is knowing that I am not the same person who walked in on my first day. I have gained knowledge, learned from my mistakes, celebrated achievements and discovered new things about my own capabilities. And I know there is still so much more to learn.

As I complete six years with the company, I want to thank everyone who has been a part of this journey and made it meaningful. I look forward to the next chapter with the same willingness to learn, the enthusiasm to take on new challenges and the hope of making an even greater contribution.
Six years have given me plenty to look back on, many reasons to be grateful, and even more to look forward to. Here's to everything I have learned so far and all the wonderful experiences yet to come!

INSPIRATIONAL STORY

Savitribai Phule

The Woman Who Dared to Dream Differently

One woman's courage. A revolution in learning. A legacy that continues to inspire.

When Education Was a Rare Opportunity, She Made It Her Mission

Imagine living in a time when a girl's education was not considered a priority, when opportunities to learn were limited for women, and when stepping beyond established expectations required extraordinary courage. This was the reality of nineteenth-century India.

At a time when many girls had little access to formal education, one woman dared to imagine a different future—not just for herself, but for generations of women to come.

Her name was Savitribai Phule.

Born on 3 January 1831 in Naigaon, Maharashtra, Savitribai began her journey in a world where education for girls was uncommon. With the encouragement of her husband, Jyotirao Phule, she learned to read and write, pursued teacher training and discovered a purpose that would shape the course of her life.

She realised that education could do far more than impart knowledge. It could build confidence, expand possibilities and empower people to shape their own futures.
And she decided to make that possibility available to others.

The Courage to Take the First Step

In 1848, Savitribai and Jyotirao Phule established a pioneering school for girls at Bhide Wada in Pune. Savitribai became its teacher, helping open the doors of formal education to girls at a time when such opportunities were rare.

Her journey was not easy. Choosing to teach girls meant going against the expectations of her time. She faced criticism and hostility, yet she continued to show up for her students and her mission. It is said that she carried an extra sari on her way to school because people would throw mud and other things at her. She would change and continue teaching.

What makes this story remarkable is not simply the difficulty she faced, but the determination with which she pursued her purpose. She did not wait for circumstances to become favourable. She did not wait for everyone to agree with her vision. She began with what she believed was necessary and worked consistently to make it happen.
Savitribai did not merely teach lessons in a classroom. She demonstrated, through her own life, the power of courage, conviction and action.

More Than a Teacher: A Pioneer Who Changed Possibilities

Savitribai's contribution extended beyond a single school. Alongside Jyotirao Phule and other educationists, she helped expand educational opportunities for girls and encouraged a wider acceptance of women's right to learn.
Her work was driven by a powerful belief: education should enable every individual to discover their potential and contribute meaningfully to society.

She was also a poet and writer who used words to encourage learning and personal growth. Her life reflected the very principles she championed—continuous learning, determination and the courage to think differently.

At a time when women's education was still developing, she helped demonstrate what was possible when someone was willing to challenge conventional thinking and turn a vision into action.

Today, Savitribai Phule is remembered as one of India's pioneering women educators. Her legacy lives on in every girl who enters a classroom with the freedom to learn, dream and build her future.

Her story reminds us that one person's initiative can create opportunities that benefit countless others.

What Can Suryojasvis Learn from Her Journey?

Savitribai Phule lived in a different era, but the principles that guided her life remain deeply relevant to our work and our growth at Suryojasvi Group.

1. Challenge the way things have always been done.
Savitribai questioned established expectations and imagined a better possibility. At work, this means looking beyond routine and asking whether a task, process or system can be improved.

Whether it is simplifying a workflow, using AI to reduce repetitive work or finding a better way to serve a customer, progress begins when we dare to ask, "Can we do this better?"

2. Always be open to learn.
Savitribai's own journey began with learning. She transformed the knowledge she gained into an opportunity to educate others.
As Suryojasvis, we can follow the same principle by continuously developing our skills, exploring new technologies, seeking feedback and sharing what we learn.

Learning becomes even more powerful when it is not just an individual pursuit but a collective habit.

3. Turn ideas into action.
Savitribai did not stop at believing that girls deserved an education. She helped establish schools and stepped into the classroom to make that belief a reality.

Likewise, a good idea at work becomes valuable when we take ownership of it and put it into practice. We can identify a problem, explore possible solutions, experiment, learn from setbacks and work towards a meaningful outcome.

Ideas inspire. Action creates impact.

4. Let purpose guide your perseverance.
Savitribai remained committed to her mission despite the challenges she encountered. Her journey teaches us the value of consistency when working towards something worthwhile.

At work, not every initiative will succeed immediately. New systems take time to adopt, innovative solutions need refinement, and improvement often requires several attempts.

The key is to remain open to learning, adapt our approach and keep moving towards the desired outcome.

5. Create opportunities for others to grow.
Savitribai used her knowledge to help others access opportunities they might otherwise have missed.

We can carry this spirit into our workplace by mentoring a colleague, helping a new joiner settle in, sharing expertise, encouraging someone to try a new skill or making knowledge more accessible to our teams.

When we help others grow, we strengthen the entire organisation.

The Light We Choose to Carry Forward.

Savitribai Phule's life reminds us that meaningful change does not always begin with grand gestures. Sometimes, it begins with a simple belief, a willingness to learn and the courage to take the first step.

She saw an opportunity where others saw limitations. She transformed her learning into action and her actions into opportunities for others.

At Suryojasvi, we too have opportunities every day to make a difference—to question, to learn, to innovate, to collaborate and to help those around us become better.

We may each contribute in different ways, but every effort that improves a process, shares knowledge or creates a new opportunity adds to our collective progress.

Let us be inspired by Savitribai Phule to become lifelong learners, courageous thinkers and individuals who turn possibilities into meaningful outcomes.
Because the true power of knowledge lies not only in what we learn, but in what we do with it—and how many others we empower along the way.

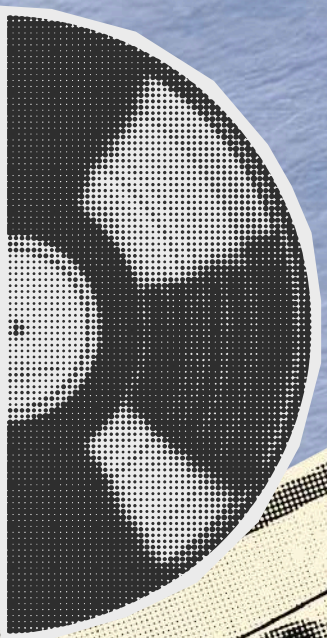

Learn with purpose. Lead with courage. Create impact through action.

Be the Light and Spread the Light.

Melody Of Our Culture

Crystal Clear Identity, Daily Remembered

Every organisation has rituals, but at Suryojasvi, we have something deeper- a daily moment that reconnects us to our identity, our purpose, and our shared destiny.

Every day at 11:00 AM, across all our companies, one powerful practice unites us:

- We play the Suryojasvi Song.
- We recite the Suryojasvi Mahavakyas.

These are not just words or melodies. They are the soul of who we are, the codes we live by, and the values that shape us.

In a world full of noise, speed, and constant change, this daily ritual becomes a pause-

- a moment to return to our center
- to remember what we stand for
- to realign with the brilliance we are committed to becoming.

The Suryojasvi Song reminds us of our spirit of our joy, our unity, our courage, and our commitment to be increasingly useful, grateful, and joyful.

It binds us together as one family with one purpose.

The Suryojasvi Mahavakyas remind us of our promises—to learn, to serve, to solve, to create, and to become the light that elevates industries and the world around us.

Through these daily practices, we reaffirm:

- We are Suryojasvis.
- We are devoted to brilliance.
- We rise with purpose.
- We walk together.

And we build, every day, a world-class organisation guided by intention, humility, and service.

This ritual is more than a habit.

The Suryojasvi Mahavakyas

1. I am a Suryojasvi - Devoted to Brilliance in my Profession.
2. I am Grateful & feel Blessed for my Customers, my Team & My Responsibilities.
3. Everyday I am focused & Inspired:
4. To Learn & Spread Skills & Knowledge
5. To Solve Ever Larger Challenges
6. To Create Greater Happiness, Success & Abundance
7. To Be More and More Useful To My Team, Clients and the World
8. Wisdom & Grace Shines Through Me in my Thought, Word and Deed.
9. I keep my Word and My Promise
10. I am a Suryojasvi, We are Suryojasvis.
